For all other offenses, the judge may, in the judge's discretion, impose a term of supervised release to be served following the person's release from imprisonment. What is the maximum term of supervised release that could be imposed in this case?
What is the maximum term of imprisonment that could be imposed if your supervised release were revoked?
Will you be forfeiting any property to the United States as a result of your guilty plea? Yes No If yes, what property?

20.	If you plead GUILTY, the judge may require you to make restitution to any victim(s) of the offense [18 U.S.C. §§ 3663 and 3664]. If you plead GUILTY to an offense that falls into certain categories, including property offenses and crimes of violence, ordinarily the judge is required to order you to pay restitution to any victim(s) of the offense [18 U.S.C. § 3663A]. Also, in certain cases, the law identifies specific classes of people or organizations that may be entitled to restitution. Restitution is a continuing obligation that does not end until it is paid in full. In other words, the United States may continue to seek restitution from you even though you are no longer serving a sentence of confinement or supervision. Do you understand all of this? Yes No
21.	The judge must impose a special assessment for each count to which you enter a plea of guilty. The amount of the special assessment depends on whether the offense is a felony or a misdemeanor [18 U.S.C. § 3013]. In your case, taking into account each offense to which you want to plead guilty, the total amount of special assessment is $
22.	If you are on probation or parole in this or any other court, do you know that by pleading GUILTY here your probation or parole may be revoked and you may be required to serve a sentence as a result of that revocation in addition to any sentence imposed upon you in this case? Yes No

24.	Do you understand if you are convicted of certain violations, such as 18 U.S.C. §§ 924(c) or 1028A, or 21 U.S.C. § 860a, the term of imprisonment imposed for that conviction cannot be served concurrently with any other term of imprisonment? Yes No Not Applicable

D. SENTENCING GUIDELINES AND OTHER SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS

In determining an appropriate sentence for a federal crime, the judge must consider the Sentencing Guidelines developed by the United States Sentencing Commission. The Sentencing Guidelines are advisory in nature, not mandatory. The judge must consider imposing a sentence within the range established by the Sentencing Guidelines, but the judge may impose a sentence either above or below that range. Do you understand this? Yes No
In calculating the range of sentence under the advisory Sentencing Guidelines, the judge will take into account all conduct, circumstances, and injuries associated with your criminal conduct, whether or not this conduct is formally charged by the government. The judge will consider all relevant conduct at the time of sentencing even though you may be pleading guilty to fewer than all counts in the Indictment or Information. Do you understand this? Yes No
Also, there is no limitation placed on the information the judge can consider at the time of sentencing concerning your background, character, and conduct so long as the information is reliable. The judge will take all of these factors into consideration in determining an appropriate sentence. Do you understand this? Yes No
If the judge orders a presentence investigation, a U.S. Probation Officer will be assigned to conduct a thorough investigation and prepare a presentence report for the judge's use. Do you understand that if you lie to the U.S. Probation Officer, or if you cause others to lie on your behalf, this can be considered by the judge and may increase the range of sentence calculated under the advisory Sentencing Guidelines? Yes No
Your history of prior criminal convictions will be used to compute your Criminal History Category under the Sentencing Guidelines. If you have any prior felony conviction that was imposed or for which you have served time within 15 years of the present offense(s), your Criminal History Category may be increased. Similarly, if you have any misdemeanor conviction within 10 years of the present offense(s), your Criminal History Category may be increased. Certain exceptions may apply in your case that would exclude a conviction from the Criminal History Category computation. Nonetheless, do you understand your prior criminal history has a direct impact on the calculation of the sentencing range under the advisory Sentencing Guidelines? Yes No

30.	If you committed the present offense(s) while you were on probation, parole, supervised release, or escape status, this may increase the number of points assessed in your criminal history computation depending on the total number of points assessed prior to this calculation. If this increases your Criminal History Category, do you understand it may increase the range of sentence calculated under the advisory Sentencing Guidelines? Yes No
31.	Do you understand if this offense is a crime of violence or a controlled substance offense, and if you have two prior felony convictions of either a crime of violence or a controlled substance offense, you could be classified as a career offender, which would increase the calculation of the sentencing range under the advisory Sentencing Guidelines? Yes No Not Applicable
32.	The maximum sentence for each offense to which you want to plead guilty is the statutory maximum set out in ¶¶ 19, 20, and 21 above. If you are pleading guilty to more than one count, you could receive the maximum sentence on each count of conviction running consecutively (C/S). See USSG § 5G1.2. Do you understand this? Yes No Not Applicable
33.	In certain cases, the law requires the judge to impose a mandatory minimum term of imprisonment. The judge may not impose a sentence below a mandatory minimum term unless the United States Attorney, in his or her discretion, files a motion. Do you understand this? Yes No Not Applicable
34.	Parole is not available in the federal system. If you are sentenced to a term of imprisonment, you will serve the entire time imposed (less any earned good time credits that may be applied to reduce the amount of time you actually serve). The maximum amount of credit you may receive against your sentence will be determined by the Bureau of Prisons and is limited by statute [18 U.S.C. § 3624]. Do you understand this? Yes No
35.	If a term of imprisonment is ordered in your case, the judge may also impose a term of supervised release, which you will begin serving after you are released from custody. For certain offenses, a term of supervised release is mandatory. During any term of supervised release, you will be subject to conditions that will include refraining from any additional violations of local, state or federal law, reporting requirements, travel and residence restrictions, and testing for controlled substance use. If you violate the conditions of your supervised release, the judge may revoke your supervised release and sentence you to an additional term of imprisonment. This additional term of imprisonment would be served without credit for the time you successfully spent on supervised release. Do you understand this? Yes No

	serve relea more Unde relea	ed after se. If ye time, ter certainse can l	as the discretion to impose another term of supervised release, to be you serve your sentence for violating the first term of supervised you violate your supervised release again, you can be sentenced to serve followed by more supervised release, at the discretion of the judge. In circumstances there is no limit to the number of times supervised be revoked and another term of supervised release imposed. Do you his? Yes No
36.	sente Optio confi	In some circumstances, the judge may decide that your case warrants imposing a sentence with conditions other than incarceration for the full term of the sentence Options available to the judge include probation, home confinement, community confinement, electronic monitoring, intermittent confinement, or a combination of any of these. Do you understand this? Yes No
37.	If you plead guilty to a federal sex offense, you may be subject to state laws requiring the registration of sex offenders. Do you understand this? Yes No Not Applicable
